3 Exchanges Follow Truman Proposal to Hike Grain Margins

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Three grain exchanges tonight announced they would comply with a presidential request to increase their margin requirements on grain futures contracts although two of them complained grain prices "are being unfairly and illogically used as a whipping boy."

This development came as President Truman's campaign to provide more food for Europe through American self-denial drew pledges of support from widespread segments of the country.

In setting forth the purposes of the drive, which calls for voluntary reductions in consumption of foodstuffs, Mr. Truman had asked the commodity markets to boost their margin requirements to 33 1/3 percent as a means of curbing speculation and keeping grain prices from soaring too high.

Putting Mr. Truman's request into effect, the commodity exchange commission which has no control over margin rates, formally telegraphed ten exchanges today and asked them to raise the margins to the 33 1/3 percent figure, which is about twice the previous margin.

The Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City grain exchanges announced they will comply.

But the directors of the Chicago and Minneapolis exchanges in a joint statement said they did so with reluctance. They contended the Government's action "will neither alleviate nor correct the situation for which the President seeks a remedy—high prices."

The Agriculture department disclosed meanwhile that it had sharply increased its purchases of wheat for export during the past week, buying 29,963,874 bushels, against 9,089,980 the previous week. Flour and barley takings also were boosted.

As one method of easing the pinch on the American household while it helps out, Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) demanded that more than 90,000,000 pounds of government-held eggs—both dried and whole frozen—be released to the public.

The eggs were bought by the Government, the senator said he was told, for price support purposes.

The senator addressed his demand to Charles Luckman, chairman of the President's citizens food committee. There was no immediate comment from Luckman.

Meantime, the food committee modified its call for eggless and poultryless Thursdays and Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's, which all fell on Thursday this year. It asked, however, that on the Mondays before the holidays the nation forego these foods.

Mr. Truman also asked the nation to forgo itself meat on Tuesdays, and called on each individual to save a slice of bread a day.

18 New Members Initiated by Elks

The colorful initiation ceremonies of the Elks were held last night by Pottstown Lodge 814, with more than 200 persons present to witness the induction of 18 new members.

Grand Exalted Ruler B. Frank Christman officiated at the ceremonies and the heads of the Norristown, West Chester, Allentown, Bethlehem, and Chester lodges were at the Elks' home last night.

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Richard White, of Philadelphia Lodge 2, paid his annual visit to the Pottstown lodge, accompanied by 15 members of his group and ten members of the Mounted Guards.

The guardsmen were dressed in the blue riding habit, red coat, and white plumed hat of their order, adding a vivid touch to the rites.

Past District rulers George A. Lessig, and Spurgeon Sidgely, of Bethlehem, were present at the initiation.

It was announced that eight to ten members of the Pottstown lodge would make a pilgrimage, on Oct. 14-15, to the Elks home at Bedford, Va. Altogether about 150 members of the southeast Pennsylvania district will visit the home.

Yankees Beat Dodgers For World Title, 5-2

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Spectacular relief pitching by lefthander Joe Page, who permitted only one Brooklyn Dodger to reach base in the last five innings, enabled the Yankees to coast through to a 5-2 victory in the seventh and deciding game of the World Series at The Stadium today before 71,548 fans.

Shelled from the mound only the previous day, the Yankees ace reliever came back to throttle the scrapping National League after he took over at the start of the fifth frame today with his club holding a precarious 3-2 lead. He faced only 15 batters in slamming the door in the Dodgers' faces, a double, play wiping out the only man to hit him safely after one was out in the ninth.

The victory, gained after seven days of hectic struggle, gave the Yankees their 11th world championship in 15 times they had reached the Fall classic. All records both for attendance and receipts were broken in the course of the fluctuating duel between the cross-river rivals.

Sharing honors with Page in scoring the decisive triumph were Little Phil Rizzuto, the Yankees' scampy shortstop and a pair of youthful utility stars, Bobby Brown and Al Clark, whom Manager Bucky Harris plucked from the bench at critical moments to throw barks into the Brooks.

Rizzuto slammed three of the winners' seven hits off five Brooklyn flingers, drove across one run and scored two more. He had a hand in each of the Yankees' first four runs, one way or another. His final contribution was to make a brilliant stop and throw of a sharp grounder by catcher Bruce Edwards.

The tie-up was witnessed by Councilman Harry E. Yergey, of the Third Ward, who said he would report the situation to borough council tonight and recommend that the railroad committee take action.

Yergey said the jam was occasioned when the 8:26 a.m. train for Philadelphia blocked the crossing for ten minutes while express packages and mail were loaded. Before the gates could be raised following its departure from the depot, a slow freight which had been waiting for the passenger train to leave the station blocked traffic for an additional ten minutes.

Traffic jammed solidly to High street north of the gates, while cars traveling north from Chester county were lined up as far back as Mt. Zion cemetery. In the event of an emergency, neither the fire apparatus nor the ambulance could have answered a call, Yergey stated.

The councilmen commended the company for their efforts to relieve the situation, particularly in making the Reading concourse a one-way street, and said he would recommend that the railroad committee write to the company to determine if a possible re-scheduling of freight trains could prevent similar traffic situations in the future.

Linfield Fire Company Admits 18 Members

It was a banner night for new members at the meeting of Linfield Fire company last night. Eighteen members were admitted, while 15 propositions for membership were received.

The 40 members at the meeting elected Fire Chief Stanley Novak as the company's delegate to the State Firemen's convention in Lancaster today, tomorrow and Thursday.

Forty were present at the meeting, which was in charge of C. V. Miller.

Pottstown Gives Big Smile for Optimist Week

Smile and keep smiling was the order of the day yesterday as Optimist Week got under way. And there were smiles—all kinds of them—to show Pottstown's approval of the idea.

Highlight of the day was the presentation of roses to those persons with the most optimistic smile. Promptly at noon, four Optimists stationed themselves at the four corners of High and Hanover streets to give roses for happy smiles. Each rose bore a tag reading, "Keep Smiling. This is Optimist Week."

Continuing the celebration, the Optimist club will hold its meeting in the Kush restaurant at 6:30 o'clock tonight. Guest speaker for the evening will be Judge Harold G. Knight, of the Court of Common Pleas.

Judge Knight will address the members of the club, their wives, and their guests on "Juvenile Delinquency."

The aim of the Optimist club in observing Optimist Week is to spread the club's creed to be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Legal Fees for Water Transaction To Be Discussed by Councilmen

Tonight's meeting of borough council, which opens the Fall and Winter schedule by meeting at 7:30 o'clock, promises to be featured by a discussion of legal fees connected with proceedings ending with the acquisition of the holdings of the Pottstown Gas and Water company.

Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells has submitted a bill of $22,000 and Joseph L. Prince, his associate attorney in the proceedings, asks for $5500.

Council is scheduled to give approval of a resolution whereby the stockholders of the Water company will be given the income of the company up to September 30 for service rendered by the company while in existence.

Council will be asked to act on a request from the managements of the two local theaters. They ask that theater managements receive 2 percent of the 10 percent tax imposed by the new licensing ordinance. This they say, would serve as a service charge to compensate them for the accounting necessary in collecting the tax. This means that, if tax is levied in the amount of $1000, the theater owners would be given $20 by the borough.

Third reading will be given an ordinance which provides that the borough finance the building of streets for new developments when the plans are carried out fully. The borough also will build streets when half of a block is developed.

The bicycle regulation ordinance will be given second reading. The one-way traffic control ordinance affecting the Reading concourse also will be given second reading.

Leo Spaar, chairman of the police committee, will recommend the appointment of Russell Hummel as a full-time police patrolman.

A report will be made on progress on the laying of curbing by the borough on certain sections of Kern street between Beech and Mervine streets. The contract has been awarded to W. R. Crossdale.

WELLS DETAILS WORK COVERED IN LEGAL FEES

Letter Accompanies Bill To Borough for $22,000; Cites Approval of Costs

The basis of the fee of $22,000 for his work in the acquisition of the Pottstown Gas and Water company was outlined by Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells in a letter released yesterday. The letter accompanied his bill which will be submitted to borough council tonight for payment.

Since he believes that Attorney Joseph L. Prince's fees come to $5500 for his work in the case, Wells pointed out that his bill will bring the legal costs to slightly more than the estimated $25,000 approved by the Public Utilities commission.

He said, however, that his fee still would be in line with the costs approved by the commission as it includes the dissolution of the company as well as the unforeseen bill in equity action which finally brought about the transfer of the company to borough ownership.

Addressed to the special water committee of the borough of Pottstown in care of Borough Manager Dow I. Sears, the letter read as follows:

"The personnel of both council and the special water committee has been subject to an almost complete change since the inception of the Water company case, and in submitting my fee for services in this matter, I felt you would want a brief resume of the work involved.

"My service in the case began in January of 1940, when in association with Attorney Edmund C. Wingard, of Chambersburg, the borough was prosecuting adverse proceedings before the Pennsylvania Public Utility commission for acquisition of the company under the Act of 1874 and had progressed through a series of hearings to establish an acquisition price under the formula of the above act. These proceedings were distinctly adverse and were contested throughout by the Water company because at that time the company ignored and under the borough toward an amicable settlement.

"After submitting a vast amount of detailed accounting and engineering testimony, the Public Utility commission, which had replaced the Public Service commission under the Act of March 31, 1937, entered its decision on July 31, 1940, that it had no jurisdiction of our application, and discharged the case, after the borough had spent several years and considerable funds in carrying on these contested proceedings.

School Board Agrees To Hold Price Level On Milk to Children

Measures to protect the health and safety of school children featured last night's meeting of the board of education. Maintenance of the present price of milk in the schools, despite advancing dealers' rates; a continued intensive X-ray examination program in the fight against tuberculosis; and co-operation with the fire department authorities in discovering possible fire hazards in the school buildings were discussed at the session which was in charge of President Larry Orgill.

Secretary Ralph P. Holloway, after discussing the milk situation, made a motion that the present rate of 5 cents per half-pint bottle be continued despite the fact that dealers have now raised the wholesale rate to five and a quarter cents.

The motion was unanimously passed. President Larry Orgill said, "This milk is a necessity in helping to promote the health of the children. Even if we sell it at a loss I am in favor of doing so."

Superintendent Frank M. Halston said, "The board will certainly maintain the old rate for milk. At the present time about 1000 half-pint bottles of milk are used each school day."

Director George D. Robins asked if the school authorities are co-operating fully in the observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Holloway said that Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer and Captain Daniel S. Drummiller, of the Fire Police association, are now engaged in making a careful inspection of the various schools. The inspection was started yesterday and will continue this week.

Holloway also said the janitors of the school buildings have been instructed to remove all conditions that may prove to be fire hazards.

It was reported by Holloway that the steel for the fire escapes in the Washington building at Walnut and Penn streets now is in position.

Dr. Haiston reported that the annual X-ray tests for tuberculosis will be given on Thursday, Oct. 16, in the Junior High school gymnasium to pupils of the Senior and Junior High schools and of the elementary grades.

He read a report by Miss Leona Smith regarding the program. The school district is co-operating with the Montgomery County Tuberculosis and Public Health society in making the chest X-ray examinations. Parents must sign applications for the testing of their children.

On motion of Treasurer I. Leroy Johnson, the following instructors for the Veterans school were elected: Joseph Kopcho, 135 South Keim street, blueprint reading; Alma I. Klink, 449 Walnut street, typing; George Lock, Douglassville, auto theory; Harry Parnell, 405 North York street, small business problems; Walter D. Reichenbach, Douglassville; Gerald Richards, Douglassville; Henry L. Schmitt, 218 North Charlotte street, blueprint reading; John Yoder, Pottstown RD 2, plumbing theory; Gerald Reazor, of 62 Chestnut street, was named a tool clerk.

The report of Tax Collector Thomas L. Rutter showed a balance due on the 1947 per capita tax of $24,635, and on the real estate tax of $29,303.39, or a total of $53,938.29.

Present at the session were President Orgill, Holloway, Johnson, Robins, Leonard Hiltzine, Dr. Gustave W. Weber and Elmer E. Saylor, of the board, and Dr. Haiston.

Reading Train Hits Wagon at Station

Two large mail wagons were chipped and jarred last night when they were knocked some 15 feet down the tracks by Reading company's 6:48 p. m. train from Philadelphia as it pulled into the Pottstown station.

The wagons were being used to unload mail from the 6:39 p. m. train from Reading. The train from Philadelphia, which usually stops at the east end of the station and passengers and mail from the other end are loaded and unloaded there.

A railroad worker jumped safely to one side, the engine grazed the side of the last of the wagons, which were parallel with the tracks. The wooden tongue of the first wagon rammed into the second, breaking a small metal plate and knocking one end wobbling. As the two wagons lurched a short distance down the trackway, the tongue of the first somehow became tucked back under its wheels causing two metal braces to be sprung and splintering two boards in the wagon's floor.

No one was injured.

Borough Asks State Help to Purify Water

The aid of the State department of health will be sought to discover the source of chemical pollution which is tainting Pottstown's drinking water, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears, head of the Pottstown Water department, announced yesterday.

Sears said that large quantities of chemical waste which are being dumped into the Schuylkill river above Pottstown each week are defeating the borough's efforts to remove the taste and odor from the drinking water.

The aid of Robert Stinson, assistant engineer of the health department, who is conducting a pollution survey in this area under the direction of District Engineer George A. Elias, of the Philadelphia office, will be sought in locating the source of the pollution, Sears went on.

The borough manager pointed out that the use of large quantities of powdered carbon in the water filters has been effective in removing both taste and odor from the water supply. A whole carload of carbon has been purchased by the water department for this purpose. It is the first step taken under borough ownership to improve the water supply.

At least once a week, however, the water has a medicinal taste due to large quantities of some chemical, probably phenol, which are dumped into the river, he said. Since the source is probably an industrial plant situated upstream, the aid of the State must be sought to halt the practice, he added.

Sears said the water department has been active in ordering supplies of pipe and other materials to renovate the existing system and that other improvements are contemplated.

Among them are a survey of the water department's system to determine where new mains must be installed and the possibility of installing a new water intake on the Schuylkill river.

Accidents Provide Good Tip Sources For Week's Winners

An unusually large number of accidents in the Pottstown area during the past week made it practically inevitable that the winners of the $10 awarded to Mercury tipsters should be persons who reported the accidents.

First prize of $5 went to Mrs. Doyle Myers, 339 New street, Spring City, who told The Mercury within a few minutes after it happened, that a truck overturned at Parkerford Sunday night, injuring the driver and his companion.

Mrs. Joseph Fryer, 923 South street, saw a man directing traffic for the Pennsylvania Railroad company the past Monday hit by a car as he left his barricade at the intersection of Route 83 and 100. Mrs. Fryer received $3 for her promptness.

An easy $2 was won by Harold Trosky, Pottstown RD 2, who called The Mercury early the past Saturday morning to tell of an automobile that struck an electric service pole on Route 100, near Bucktown, injuring two persons and cutting electric power in the area for more than an hour.

It's simple to win your share of the $100 awarded each week for news tips. When you see anything happen, or hear about it, take a few seconds to call The Mercury—2263—and the money may be yours.

Hanns Eisler, Wife Freed Under Bail

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6 (P)—Hanns Eisler, film song writer, and his wife, Louise—accused by the House Un-American committee—surrendered today on warrants calling for deportation proceedings, but won quick release on bond.

Warrants issued in Washington by the immigration service allege that they obtained visas to enter this country by misrepresentation and that Eisler swore he was not a member of the Communist party. He acknowledged at the House hearing that he once had been a party member in Germany.

"In 1933, in a Paris newspaper, I read where Hitler had placed a word on my head," Eisler told reporters. "I never dreamed that a similar situation could arise in the United States, a country that I love."

He denied the charges against him as his attorney, B. E. Margolis, arranged for bond of $1000 for the composer, $500 for his wife.

South Africa Backs U. S. Against Attack by Russians

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 6 (P)—Andre Y. Vishinsky carried the Communist battle against "capitalism" and "imperialism" into the United Nations assembly late today with a long attack on the United States, Britain and their supporters.

The challenge was taken up promptly by Harry Lawrence, chief delegate of South Africa, who told Vishinsky and the 51-nation political committee of the General assembly that South Africa did not believe the United States had imperialistic aims in Greece as charged by Russians.

The blast of the Soviet deputy foreign minister was delivered before the political committee the day after the Communist party announced creation in Poland of a new Communist international.

Vishinsky accused Belgium of proposing a horse trade when it suggested that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria accept a U. N. commission if the assembly did not find them responsible for helping Greek guerrillas.

HOFFMAN CITES 'GESTAPO' RULE

Michigan Legislator Assails Civil Service For Secret File Data

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (P)—Two civil service commissioners refused today to let congressmen make sure their names are removed from a secret file kept by commission investigators in connection with loyalty inquiries.

Harry B. Mitchell and Arthur S. Flemming told the House executive expenditures committee such a search would violate the confidential nature of the file. They promised, however, that the cards of all congressmen will be removed from the file and destroyed.

Representative Hoffman (R-Mich), committee chairman, declared, "This is a gestapo," and warned the commissioners he will put the matter before Congress when it convenes in January. Calling the file on congressmen a "smear list," he said one card listed a congressman as a Nazi.

All three commissioners, Mitchell, Fleming and Frances Perkins, had denied knowing until the past Friday that congressmen's names appear at all in the file, which they said is only a compilation of "leads" to guide investigators in loyalty checks. They agreed the names should be removed at once.

Hoffman reminded Flemming that he was before the committee under a subpoena which requested that the commission produce the cards of congressmen listed in the file.

"You mean you won't do it until we get a court order," Hoffman said.

"That's right," Flemming agreed. "It is a legal issue."

Hoffman said the committee could not cite the commissioners for contempt until Congress meets, then added: "This is a promise — not a threat. We will take this up with the proper committees of Congress, and see whether we can force you to divulge how your money is being spent, whether it is being used for a smear campaign."

Senator Predicts Farm Products to Bring High Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (P)—Agriculture department spokesmen told Capitol Hill lawmakers today that America's farm families may drift away from the land unless their living standards are boosted toward those of the city.

The testimony was offered at Senate-House agriculture hearings on farm policy.

The House agriculture committee is making a study with a view to formulation of long-range agricultural policy. Members of the Senate agriculture committee attended today's session.

The hearings also brought from Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) a statement that the American people ought to be told that "we are going to have high prices indefinitely" on farm products.

Thomas added: "We are not going to return to $1 wheat, ten cent cotton and four cent hogs. The problem is to have an adjustment where everybody would be treated equitably."

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan presented specific recommendations for improvement of farm life.

Secretary Clinton D. Anderson signed a long-range agricultural policy of "organized, sustained and realistic abundance."

The program committee, the Rev. Luther A. Krouse, chairman, made a report on assignments.
The constitution of the organization was adopted in 1917 and the Rev. Howard A. Kosman, chairman of the constitution committee, was instructed to have his committee consider amendments.
Earl Antrim, of Pottstown post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, suggested that as a part of Pottstown's Christmas observance massed choirs of the various churches sing carols. No action was taken on this suggestion.
The Rev. Horace N. Olewiler, president of the ministerium, presided. Others present were: Revs. Kosman, Story, Krouse, Donald J. Floyd, A. Burtis Hallock Jr., Reid Teitworth, Matchette, Paul Scheurer, John B. Frantz and Victor Patterson and Captain Meral Cox.
The next meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 3.

It's to your interest to know about this proposed feather-bedding!
For sheer feather-bedding, this mock work proposal takes the cake. But it is only one of 44 "rules" demands filed by the leaders of the operating unions. If all these demands were granted, they would cost the railroads an added BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR.
Increased Wages, Too
On top of these "rules" changes, the leaders of the operating unions have filed an additional demand for a wage increase of over 30 per cent. If granted, this would be an added cost to the railroads of $400,000,000 a year.
$468,000,000 To Non-Operating Employees
In addition to this, an Arbitration Board has just granted a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour to the million employees represented by the 17 non-operating unions. This will cost the railroads $468,000,000 a year.
Where Will The Money Come From?
Where will all the money come from to pay these increases? They total several times as much as the railroads made in 1946 or will make in 1947.
In July, the railroads filed an application for increased freight rates to close the gap which then existed between wage and material costs, and railroad revenues. Since then it has been necessary, because of further increases in wages and material costs, to supplement that petition and to ask for an additional freight rate increase. No other course is open:

Railroads are operated for the benefit of not one, but several groups—shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public. ## State Asks First Degree Murder Verdict

Against Broeckey in Slaying at Oaks

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Oct. 6 — A verdict of "murder in the first degree or such verdict as you find proper" was asked this afternoon by Assistant District Attorney Arthur Bean as the Commonwealth began presenting testimony in its case against Andr. Broeckey, 52, of Phoenixville, accused of slaying Jahan Jachanyics, 65, in his rooming house at Oaks, on Saturday, Sept. 6.

A jury of seven women and five men and two women alternates is hearing the case before Judge George C. Corson.

Assistant District Attorney

Bean charged that Broeckey had told investigators he had clubbed Jachanyics on the head because Jachanyics had "stolen his woman."

Bean said Broeckey referred to Mrs. Esther Hayes, 47, who had lived with the defendant as his housekeeper for approximately six months. Then about five weeks previous to the slaying, she left him.

Broeckey, the prosecutor said, had spent the time searching for the woman and her son, Nicholas. On the Saturday morning in question, the defendant met Mrs. Hayes and her son while they were shopping in Phoenixville.

They all returned to the Jachanyics' rooming house after having had something to drink. They also brought back liquor and wine with them, the county prosecutor told the jury.

During the afternoon, Bean said,

Nicholas left the first floor apartment to feed the chickens and at that time his mother was asleep on a couch. Jachanyics when she last

When Nicholas returned to the room, he found Jachanyics dead on the bed, a wound on the left side of his face. The defendant was still in the room and, according to Bean, Broeckey told Nicholas he had killed Jachanyics and said that after dark he would dispose of the body.

Nicholas became ill from the incident and went outside. Later he told neighbors who called State police of the Collegeville sub-station.

Broeckey at first denied killing Jachanyics, maintaining that some men had gone there in a taxi-cab and that an argument ensued over $500 and that one of the men killed him. However, after being ques-

had been searching for the man for five weeks.

Borough Council Lays Plans for Ordinance To Curb Disorderly Conduct in Boyertown

Boyertown borough council took steps last night which will lead to creation of an ordinance dealing with disorderly conduct and nuisances in the borough.

It was pointed out that there is no such ordinance at the present time and Councilman Samuel Houck moved that the solicitor draw up the necessary ordinance.

Council also decided to advertise for bids on a new police car. Specifications will state that the car is to be a four-door sedan. The present car has more than 78,000 miles on it.

Lawrence E. Grim, high school principal, was renominated by council to a six-year term on the Boyertown Civil Service commission. Grim's present term is due to expire in November. The new appointment means that he will serve until 1953.

Action on zoning was again postponed until those members concerned with the question meet, Monday, Oct. 20.

The question of "no parking" signs for doctor's offices was presented to council by Burgess James A. Fritz. Council decided to postpone action until a further clarification of the parking limitation is received. Council members felt if space is reserved before a doctor's office, it should be for emergency use only and not for private parking by the doctor. The matter will be discussed further with local physicians.

The burgess also passed on to council a request by the police department that the Red Cross room in Town hall be used as police headquarters. Since the room is not now in active use by the Red Cross and since band uniforms and instruments are stored in it, council considered the request favorably but decided to pass the matter on to the house committee for investigation.

The matter of health and accident insurance was passed on to the finance committee for a recommendation to be submitted to council at the November meeting.

Louise Overell Seeks Double Indemnity Fund

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)—The nation's most publicized young lovers of the moment, Louise Overell and George Gellum, had shipped quietly out of the public limelight tonight—but the litigation isn't necessarily over with their acquittal on charges of murdering her parents.

Otto A. Jacobs, the 18-year-old heiress' counsel, told newsmen that she will press for collection under the double indemnity clause of $150,000 policies on the lives of Pasadena financier Walter E. Overell and his wife, Beulah, who died aboard their yacht March 15.

Jacobs pointed out that the coroner returned a verdict of accidental death and that Louise had been acquitted. He said litigation would be started against the companies if they resisted payment and disclosed that Louise was contemplating two label suits, "one of which will be for at least $200,000." He did not elaborate.

It was reported that the basement, which houses the school cafeteria, is being painted and renovated, and that new suits for the soccer team should arrive in about 10 days.

Trythall, who also is tax collector, reported collections of $6602, while the board paid bills totaling $1248.

As he smoked a cigar, he commented cheerfully that "it's very comfortable. I don't know I have a thing on my chest. It does all my breathing for me."

Other apparatus in the two-block display were emergency trucks from each of Pottstown's three companies, two Good Will ambulances, two more emergency trucks and two police cars which were prepared to take any fire calls that might have been sent in to the companies.

As an extra precaution, Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer ordered all equipment, except the hand pumper to be kept in readiness and not put through any demonstration.

Another item in yesterday's observance of Fire Prevention Week was the beginning of inspections of all public buildings in the borough. Lindauer, Daniel Drummeller, captain of the Fire Police association, and Harold Ventzel, fire marshal of the Seventh district, were among the officials who inspected five schools yesterday—St. Clair Rupert, Jefferson, Lincoln and Jackson.

Lindauer said the fault observed were mostly minor such as sticks in the fire extinguishers.

Inspects, but a few faults would be checked further with photographs. He added that the fire drills staged by the pupils today were rapid and orderly.

Building inspection will continue tomorrow, when one of the chief visits will be to the Junior High school.

WHEREAS fires threaten this year to exact the greatest toll of lives and the greatest waste of material resources that our nation has ever experienced; and

WHEREAS this destruction is taking place at a time when the entire world is faced with distressing shortages of food and housing and nearly every commodity essential to speedy reconversion to a peacetime economy; and

WHEREAS the vast majority of destructive fires are preventable by the exercise of greater caution on the part of all our citizens:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, William A. Griffith, Burgess of Pottstown, do hereby designate the week beginning October 5, 1947, as Fire Prevention Week.

I ask every citizen to do his part by learning how to detect and eliminate all possible causes of fires in his home and in his business, in order to safeguard both lives and property from the holocaust of fire. I also request that the State and local governments, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the National Fire Waste Council, business and labor organizations, the churches and schools, civic groups, and the agencies of the press, the radio, and the motion-picture industry throughout the country co-operate fully in the observance of Fire Prevention Week and I direct that the appropriate agencies of the Federal Government likewise assist in arousing the public to the awareness of the dread threat of fires.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal on this 4th Day of October in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-seven.

City Council Hears Miss C. Saylor; Pin Is Presented

"There are more reasons for liking school than disliking school," said Miss Catherine Saylor who spoke last night to the Pottstown City Council of the Parent Teacher associations in the library of the Senior High school.

"Teachers are often at fault. A little praise from a teacher does wonders," said Miss Saylor. "Often something that happens in their early years such as being called stupid, causes the pupils to dislike school. A child must have an interest in school in order to like it."

"Reasons for disliking school," she continued, "are home surroundings may not be pleasant and a poor attitude on the parents' part concerning school. In the high grades, girls often cannot dress as well as most girls. New and different systems of teaching are not easy for children moving in from other districts or towns."

Miss Saylor finished her talk by adding that the teasing of other children often causes a child to want to stay away from school and parents should visit the schools whenever a child is dissatisfied.

The speaker, a Central teacher, was introduced by Mrs. George Bushee, president of the Central PTA, who was in charge of the "Study course."

It was announced that all PTA presidents should give their programs for the year to Mrs. William Weiss, secretary, by Monday, Oct. 20.

Mrs. Frank Witmyer, president, presented Mrs. Carl Keller with a past president pin. She also gave a report on the recent state convention held in Pittsburgh with the theme "Take the Lead."

Mrs. Helen Nicely, state president, said that "we in Pennsylvania should take the lead. More teachers are needed, and better teachers. Study your community health program."

Mrs. Edwin Yarnall also gave an interesting report on the convention. "We all live according to a plan. The laws of nature are the things we should be following. Nature is mother. The father is God."

Other delegates that gave reports are Mrs. George Bushee, Mrs. Weiss, Mrs. Robert Frederick and Mrs. James Montague.

Pottstown WCTU to Meet On Thursday Afternoon

Madchen," and "Die Junge Nonne," which she enunciated as clearly in German as she did all her other selections in English.

Two religious songs opened the recital. They were Mendelssohn's "O Rest in the Lord," from "Elijah," and "But the Lord Is Mindful of His Own," from "St. Paul." Both were presented with the same fullness of body and pure intonation that featured all her selections.

After the Schubert group, Miss Watson sang five folk songs, ranging from the elusively melancholy "I Wonder As I Wander," to the lilting Irish "Supper."

The fourth group, all contemporary songs, were musical, the least serious of the evening's program, although Miss Watson sang them with as much skill as she did the more interesting Schubert and Mendelssohn.

Royersford Citizens Pen Petition Against Group of Cyclists Creating Disturbance

A petition bearing signatures of 16 residents in the vicinity of Third avenue and Washington street, Royersford, was submitted to the October meeting of Borough council last night.

The petitioners complained about alleged practice of a group of motorcyclists congregating at the residence of one of members and creating a disturbance and nuisance by loud talking and noise of motors backfiring as late as two o'clock in the morning.

Burgess Ralph Landes said he had received similar complaints the past Fall and had notified the Washington street resident that complaint had been made and under the disturbance was abated, police action would be taken.

Borough Solicitor Ober Hess said the provisions of the ordinance recently enacted to cope with nuisances and disturbances covers such conditions, and the police department is vested with necessary authority to arrest any offending person or persons and assess a "stiff" fine.

After several months discussion concerning increased industrial waste, which is causing

DRIFTIN' AROUND

WITH ELMER PANOC

BOBBY SCHANTZ former Pottstown High outfielder who turned out to be a pitcher probably led the best game of his baseball career Sunday when he ousted Curt Simmons, brilliant rookie of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Schantz, the little lefthander who pitched Souderton to the East Penn league championship by winning eight games without a defeat, faced Simmons in an exhibition game at Souderton. The southpaw was pitching against a team from Egypt and Simmons was the opposing hurler.

Souderton touched Simmons for eight hits and a 4-1 victory while Schantz was pitching a brilliant five-hit contest. The former Pottstown High athlete fanned 14 batters and Simmons struck out nine.

Simmons was signed by the Phillies the past year and pitched for Wilmington in the Inter-State league. The Phillies brought the young pitching sensation to Shibe Park on the last day of the 1947 season and he turned back the New York Giants with a five-hit performance, 3-1.

JOHNNY FAVINGER, Rogersford midget auto driver, is entered in the 100-mile National Midget Auto racing championship race which is scheduled to be held at the famed Langhorne speedway Sunday afternoon.

Favinger has had fair success piloting midgets around the short ovals under lights, but he has been sensational with the small mounts on the big raceways.

Favinger, who started racing back in 1935, placed second to Len Duncan in the century race at Trenton this year and was third in still another 100-mile race. He also has scored numerous victories and placed points on the half mile track.

The Rogersford driver is regarded as a real threat any time he is seated behind the wheel of a fast Ford on a large oval.

JERRY SEEDERS, shortstop for the Pottstown Cardinals of the Bi-State Softball league, finished the season with a nice cool batting average of .468 which gives him the 1947 league batting title.

The former Pottstown High and University of Pennsylvania athlete pounded out 37 hits in 79 appearances at the plate and finished 35 points above his nearest competitor.

Ted Kovaluk, Cardinals' outfielder, was the second highest Pottstown player in the batting list. Kovaluk finished 10th in the Bi-State loop with an average of .353.

DAVE DETAR, former Pottstown High griddier, started for the Army "plebes" against Wyoming Seminary two weeks ago but was forced to retire from the game in the first period due to a knee injury.

The injury was reported as not serious and the left halfback is expected back in action shortly. The Army eleven won the game, 25-0.

GUY EUSTON, speedy backfield man who gave North Coventry High opponents a lot of trouble a few years back, started for Lebanon Valley college in the school's opener Saturday afternoon against Moravian. Euston, running from the full-back position, scored one of the touchdowns that gave Lettison Valley a 21-20 victory.

Bill Keeler another former North Coventry griddier, started at right guard for Lebanon Valley and played nearly the entire game for Coach Andy Kerr's eleven.

Rogers, Zehler Rejoin Villanova Team

VILLANOVA, Oct. 6 (P) — Joe Rogers, a top ground gainer in the East last year, and Bill Zehler will join the Villanova backfield for Saturday's clash with Holy Cross at Worcester, Mass. Neither has seen any action thus far because of illness.

Coach Jordan Olivar had hoped to start them in the game with the University of Miami the past Friday, then changed his mind and decided to give them additional rest. Both players participated in today's practice.

MACPHAIL SAYS HE'S THROUGH WITH BASEBALL

Announces Retirement Following Yankees Victory in Series

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6 (P) — Larry MacPhail, tears streaming down his face, announced today he was retiring immediately as president of the world champion New York Yankees.

"It's been tough and I've been in there trading punches all the time. Now I'm through," he declared immediately after the last out was made in the concluding game of the World Series between the Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Too nervous to remain in his box, he had gone to the Yankee dressing room before the game ended.

"This means the most to me in all the 20 years I've been in baseball," he declared as he accepted tumultuous congratulations. "Thank the Lord I can go out with a winner."

Shortly before the season ended MacPhail said he planned to retire in 1950—"if not earlier"—but Dan Topping, one of his associates, expressed the hope today that he would reconsider and stay with the Yankees.

MacPhail said Topping would probably be his successor. When the dressing room radio told the final out, MacPhail shouted:

"That's it. That's my retirement." Bewildered over the decision of the Yankee president was the Yankee president was threaded through the hilarity in the elegant, carpeted locker rooms of the Yankee team.

MacPhail went from player to player, hugging them and laughing. Center of congratulations was the quiet, reserved Yankee manager, Bucky Harris, who led the Washington Senators to victory in the World Series of 1924, and was MacPhail's unexpected choice last winter as Yankee manager.

"If anybody is entitled to the credit, it's this fellow," said MacPhail, putting his hand on Harris' shoulder.

Ford Frick, National league president, and Commissioner A. B. Chandler were early arrivals to congratulate Harris.

"A great ball club and a great Series," said Chandler. "They gave you a real battle." said Frick, extending his hand to Harris. "I'm going to die of bases on balls."

"Me, too," laughed Harris. Passes were frequent on both sides during the seven games.

Richard Mensch Is Named Winner of Grid Contest; Ed Dobry Cops 2d Prize

For the second straight week, upsets foiled the local football experts.

Some 94 entries were received during the past week in The Mercury's third weekly football guessing contest and only 22 of the football fans who entered the contest were able to pick seven or more winners out of the ten games.

Seven of the 22 picked eight right and the other 15 picked seven correct winners. Twenty were able to get only six right and 25 slipped to five. Twenty-two of the 94 dropped to four winners and four persons picked only three winners right out of the ten games. One person was only able to pick two winners.

The judges spent a lot of time looking over the seven entries with eight winners and after a long debate it came down to two entries.

Another long debate followed and finally Richard Mensch, 46 West Sixth street, was named the winner of the top prize—four tickets to the Pottstown-West Chester football game which is scheduled for Franklin Field on Oct. 25 Ed Dobry, 421 King street, gave Mensch a little trouble, but his scores were a little off and the judges awarded Dobry second prize—two tickets to the Pottstown-West Chester game.

Mensch, like the majority of persons entered in the contest, missed the UCLA-Northwestern game and the Ohio State-Purdue game. Northwestern nosed out UCLA, 27-26, and Ohio State bowed to Purdue in a surprise, 24-20.

Dobry picked Northwestern to beat UCLA, but the former Pottstown High athlete missed the Ohio State game and the St. Mary's-California fray which was won by California, 45-6.

The two games missed by Mensch was missed by more persons than any other games. Another game which gave fans a lot of trouble was the Oregon State-Washington contest which was won by Oregon State.

Many persons picked Bristol to beat Pottstown, after they saw the Trojans lose to Upper Merion, but Coach Heber Meyers' charges surprised local fans by trouncing Bristol, 40-0.

Columbia's 13-6 win over Navy was another upset and many fans lost out on the Holy Cross victory over Temple.

Other fans who picked eight winners but were off on picking the scores were Mrs. Gladys Stricker, Ed Saylor, Ray Falusi, Steve Zawaski and Lee Wamshier.

Lester Moyer's Pigeon Wins 200-Mile Race

LESTER MOYER, New Berlinville, Penn., won the 200-mile race from Orange, Va., Saturday afternoon when his bird came home the winner after flying 1266.046 yards per minute.

In second place was Henry Diener, Stowe, and the Schantz brothers placed third and fourth.

This is one of the most important announcements in the history of the Boston Braves.

A month ago I spoke to Southworth in Cincinnati and told him I wanted to sit down and talk to him about a contract for the next five years.

Questioned about a "big player deal" the Braves were reported to be negotiating, Perini said, "I have talked to a lot of clubs about deals that may or may not materialize."

and convert it into the double play which ended the Series.

Brown, making his fourth appearance of the play-off as a pinch-hitter, belted a double to knock in the Yankees' second run to tie the score in the fourth, and Clark put the count forever beyond reach of the Dodgers by clouting across the winners' fourth score in the sixth.

Brown's three hits in three official times at bat during the Series set a record. On his other try, in the first game, the young utility infielder drew a walk at a crucial point in the Yankees' first big rally of the series.

The Dodgers scored both runs today in the second inning, when they passed the Yank starter, Frank Shea, and his successor, Bill Bevens, for four solid hits, including a triple by Gene Hermanski and a double by Johnny Jorgensen. With that one outburst, Manager Burt Shotton's outlanders were through for the year.

A single through third base by Edwards in the fourth inning and another one-baser by Ed Miksis after one was out in the ninth, summed up their efforts thereafter. Bevens, the unfortunate who lost a one-hitter during the Series, was not knocked out, but retired for a pinch-hitter after he had wrenched his arm on a pitch during the fourth frame.

Trailing by two runs at the outset, the Yanks got one back in the second, when Hal Gregg, the Dodger starter, handed out a brace of walks and Rizzuto slashed the first of his three hits over third base.

Gregg settled down to retire the Yanks in the third, but they set a fire under the tall right-hander in the fourth and sewed up the series. With two down on strikeouts and Billy Johnson on base by virtue of a walk, Rizzuto arched the second of his hits into left field, and that brought in the juvenile, Brown, to bat for the ailing Bevens.

The kid slashed a hot two-bagger into left on which Johnson easily scored to knot the count. With that, Gregg was through and Hank Behrman stroled in. He walked his first opponent, George Stirnweiss, and then Tommy Henrich, known around the Stadium as the "Old Reliable," pounded across the winning score with a clean single into right field.

Thereafter, to all intents and purposes, it was all Joe Page and his smoking fast ball. The big southpaw threw only one curve and one slider as he mowed the Brooklyn down. He racked up only one strikeout, but he had the Dodgers popping up or hitting easy rollers, and the Yank fielders didn't have a really hard chance as Page broke into the winner's circle at last.

Trying desperately to get a rally under way, Shotton threw three pinch-hitters into the tussle and trotted out pitchers like a man shelling peas but it got him nowhere. The Yanks scored their fourth run off Joe Hatten in the sixth on Clark's pinch-hit, and added another for good measure off Hugh Casey in the seventh when Johnson whaled his third triple of the series into deep left-center field and scored on a long fly by Aaron Robinson.

Gregg was charged with the loss, as he left the winning run on base for Behrman to try to dispose of in the fourth Casey's two-inning

BETTER TEAM WON THIS TIE, SAYS DODGER MANAGER

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6 (P) — The Brooklyn Dodgers dressed and went home after today's final game of the World Series.

That's all there was left for them to do. And it was as simple and matter of fact as that.

There was no weeping, wailing or gnashing of teeth in the Dodger dressing room after their 5-2 defeat by the New York Yankees in the payoff battle of this post-season classic.

They gave the mighty Yankees quite a wrestle while it lasted. It just wasn't quite good enough. Although the defeated athletes didn't say much, you could tell they felt they had given the Yanks a run for their money.

"I have no regrets," said Burt Shotton, the silver-haired pilot of the Dodgers, who stepped out of retirement to take the helm when Leo Durocher was suspended.

"The Dodgers are a great team, and they'll be greater next year. We did all we could. We tried, but we couldn't quite make it."

"The better club won this time. But we'll beat the Yanks some time in the next ten years than they'll beat us."

Somebody asked him to analyze the Yankee victory.

"They got more runs than we did," he answered simply, the twinkle returning to his eyes for the first time.

Dodger president Branch Rickey accompanied Shotton on the long walk from dugout to clubhouse, his arm draped around Burt's shoulders.

Shotton marked the veteran Dodger's fifth appearance in as many days. He was credited with two of the losers' three victories.

Oak Terrace Club Robbed of $700 by Four Gentle Thieves

AMBLER, Oct. 6 (P)—Four soft-faced gunmen made off with $700 from a held raid on the fashionable Oak Terrace Country club.

The robbers walked in the front door of the semi-isolated club about 3 a. m. awakened the manager and forced him to open the safe containing about $700 in weekend receipts and jewelry.

They rounded up 10 residents—seven men and three women—and took $700 from their pockets. The robbers tossed them with telephone wires, neckties and bathrobe cords.

Then with a mild warning, they hurried to the club station wagon and drove off.

Clarence Greco, 50-year-old manager of the Oak Terrace Country house, gave police this account of the robbery:

"He was awakened by a thin-faced gunman who told him in a low voice: 'This is a holdup. We want no trouble. If you co-operate and work along with us no one will be harmed or hurt. And we're going to take everything.'

"Gesturing with his revolver, the thin-faced man forced Greco out of bed, but then noticed a vial of medicinal tablets on the table nearby.

"What are you sick?" he asked. "Yes, I'm not a very bad heart," Greco replied.

"Well, then you better take your pills now," the gunman declared and after Greco had taken two, he merely the manager from the room, leaving a confederate to stand guard on Miss Greco.

Joined by two other gunmen, the thin-faced man rounded up the sleeping residents of the clubhouse and paraded them into the clubhouse where the safe was opened and looted.

AFL Leader Urges Election Setbacks For Legislators Who Backed Labor Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6 (P)—President William Green called on the American Federation of Labor today to "match to the polls" in 1948 "to defeat every member of Congress who voted for the Taft-Hartley law."

Opening the federation's 66th annual convention, the 73-year-old president predicted the delegates would "direct and order" that election day next year be set aside as a holiday to permit every worker to cast his ballot.

Labor, Green declared, "resented bitterly" the passage of "anti-labor legislation after the war is over and after labor had established what he said was a 'great record' of wartime production."

"What are we going to do about it?" Green demanded.

"It is certain we will not remain quiet and passive."

"We will set a great objective to be reached at any cost for the repealing of this law."

"An equal objective, to be reached without compromise, will be to defeat every member of Congress who voted for the Taft-Hartley law."

Since the war, Green continued, free enterprise has been "wiped out in virtually every nation of the world except America." In America, he declared the organized labor movement was still the "staunchest defender" of the free enterprise system.

"I interpret that the backers of the Taft-Hartley bill prefer to limit freedom of labor rather than to have this great organization defend the free enterprise system. I can warn those men—the reactionaries of America—against destroying the free enterprise system through destruction of the labor movement."

The convention soon will consider a resolution calling for repeal of the law elective defeat of its backers, and an early court test of its constitutionality.

Green also keynoted the AFL's position on high prices. He declared it was up to the delegates to take a stand on "maintaining the American standard of living" in the face of the "threat of continued inflation."

From March, 1945, to June 1947, Green said, total wages declined one percent but corporation profits increased 55 percent, dividends were up 25 percent, rents increased 26 percent, and prices as of June were 58 percent "above the pre-war levels."

"We call on those who are standing in the way of international peace and security to change their tactics," he said. "The working people are greatly disappointed over the work of the United Nations and the establishment of universal peace and security."

West End Firemen Vote $200 Donation To Memorial Hospital

Sixty members of the West End Fire company, Stove, voted a $200 contribution to Memorial hospital at their meeting last night in the firehouse, and it was announced that further donations may follow.

Reports were heard on the remodeling of the firehouse which is expected to be completed by the first of the year. The entire first floor of the building is now being strengthened with steel and will be rebuilt into an apparatus room. The upstairs will be removed, with the inside being stripped, leaving only beams and roof, which will be hauled down when the remodeling is completed.

end of next week. The work is being done by a private contractor, with a number of the members joining in the job to completion. John Kupp is supervising the operation.

Albert Hornberger was chosen as the company's delegate to the State firemen's convention which starts tomorrow at Lancaster. He will be accompanied by Daniel Ludwig.

Delivery date on the new 750-gallon Buffalo pumper has been pushed back to December.

Four new members were admitted and one proposal for membership was received. After the meeting the members watched the television set which has been installed on a trial basis, with the probability being that the members will purchase a set in the near future.
